Prosecutor Wins Crime Panel Award

April 26, 2002 | STAFF REPORTS

Broward County

The Broward County Crime Commission last night honored Assistant State Attorney Shari Tate as Broward's prosecutor of the year.

Tate last year handled more trials than any other Broward prosecutor. A graduate of Nova Southeastern University, she has worked for the Broward State Attorney's Office since 1991 and is assigned to the Career Criminal Unit, which specializes in prosecuting defendants with long criminal pasts.

"Shari has done an excellent job throughout her career here, especially in the last year," State Attorney Mike Satz said. "She's a talented woman with great dignity and poise who balances her professional and personal life very well."
